January 2014

Hello Parents!

We cannot believe it's 2014!
We hope that you and your families had a wonderful Christmas and New Year's.

This new year brings new projects and adventures for us all. We will be looking at winter clothing and what we need to play in the snow when we go out. We will spend some time reading Jan Brett and will talk about polar animals and hibernation. Not to mention so much more!

We will also continue with our letter a week and name writing. Please continue to practice name writing at home with your child. They should be writing their name with an uppercase letter followed by lowercase letters.

Any questions on any of the information in this newsletter, please just ask.

Have a safe and healthy January!
Melissa and Ashley

12/30-1/3 Happy New Year

1/ 6-810: Jan Brett Letter L

1/ 13-1/17: Polar Animals, Letter M

1/ 20-1/24: Hibernation, Letter N

1/ 27-1/31: I'm Big in Gods Eyes, Letter O

Reminders:

*Please remember to label all belongings, even winter clothes.

* Please remember that we are working hard on getting your children ready for kindergarten. Children take out their own snacks and lunches each day. We are working on having them independently take out and open and close their own belongings. Age appropriate cups with built in straws or water bottles work great.

We also always have cups and water to drink.

Progress Reports

We are busy working on progress reports. They will be going home the end of this month. There will be two copies, one for you to sign and we keep in the files, and one that you keep. If there is anything that you find you need to speak to us about, please feel free to let us know.

Songs/ Finger plays:

Mittens Feel So Nice

Warm, warm, warm and snug!
Mittens feel so nice!
So grab a pair in chilly air,
Or in the snow and ice!

5 To Play

Your child needs these 5 things to play outside! If they do not have them, they cannot play in the snow!

1. Snow pants
2. Boots
3. Jacket
4. Hat
5. Mittens/ Gloves
